DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 17-67 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-24 of U.S. Patent No. 6,217,665. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the scope of the claims of the patent are inside of the scope of the patent of the instant application except for the claims of the instant application requiring application of a air knife for drying and high-pressure showering for washing. However, the use of high-pressure showering and air knife was conventional in the art. It would have been obvious to an ordinary artisan to use high pressure showering as a washing step in the method of claims of the patent in order to enhance the cleaning, with reasonable expectation of success, especially in view of the fact that the claims of the patent recite non-specified showering. It would have been obvious to an ordinary artisan to use air knife for drying the substrates in the method of claims of the patent in order to have the substrates dry. Thereby, the claims of the instant application are not patentably distinct.

3. Claims 17-67 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-14 of U.S. Patent No. 6,391,117. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the scope of the claims of the patent are inside of the scope of the patent of the instant application except for the claims of the instant application requiring application of a air knife for drying and high-pressure showering for washing. However, the use of high-pressure showering and air knife was conventional in the art. It would have been obvious to an ordinary artisan to use high pressure showering as a washing step in the method of claims of the patent in order to enhance the cleaning, with reasonable expectation of success, especially in view of the fact that the claims of the patent recite non-specified showering. It would have been obvious to an ordinary artisan to use air knife for drying the substrates in the method of claims of the patent in order to have the substrates dry. Thereby, the claims of the instant application are not patentably distinct.
